1. Safeguarding

University College Birmingham is committed to safeguarding, promoting the wellbeing of its students and ensuring the safety of everyone involved in its activities.

The University aims to provide a safe environment for all students and staff studying and working here and for all visitors to its facilities.

The University recognises that it has social, moral, and legal obligations to safeguard the wellbeing and safety of children, young people and vulnerable adults involved in any University College Birmingham activities, whether these are conducted in person or online.

University College Birmingham believes that students, staff, and visitors to the University have the right to learn and work in a positive environment that is free from harm and all forms of prejudice, harassment, discrimination and bullying.

We recognise that that being subjected to harassment, violence, exploitation and or abuse, is a breach of an individual's rights, as set out in the Human Rights Act 1998.

The University understands the importance of considering wider environmental factors in our student's lives that may threaten their safety and/or welfare and we are aware that safeguarding incidents and/or behaviours can be associated with factors outside University and can occur between children and we consider the context within which such incidents and/or behaviours occur.

The University understands that safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is everyone's responsibility and that everyone who comes into contact with children and vulnerable adults has a role to play. Therefore, we recognise that the University forms part of a wider safeguarding framework and system. This framework and system are described in full detail in the statutory guidance 'Working Together to Safeguard Children 2018'.

2. What is the purpose of this policy?

This document sets out our responsibilities and provides the detailed processes and procedures we will follow. It also outlines how we will:

Provide a safe and supportive environment for all our students, with particular regard to children and vulnerable adults who engage with our staff, students, contractors and volunteers in the course of our work and University-led activities.

Ensure that staff and those facilitating or supporting programmes and activities working with children and vulnerable adults have defined responsibilities.

Ensure that there is a clear reporting and escalation route should staff or students become aware of a safeguarding concern.

Ensure that staff and students engaging with children and vulnerable adults receive relevant safeguarding training and understand their role and responsibilities in safeguarding.

3. What and whom does this policy cover?

This policy and the processes and procedures it sets out apply to all students, staff, governors, volunteers, contractors, subcontractors, and visitors to University College Birmingham (irrespective of age, gender, ethnicity, and disability), who come into contact with or encounter the following groups through teaching, professional services and other activities:

- Children: for the purposes of safeguarding a child is anyone under the age of 18.
- Vulnerable Adults at risk of harm (hereafter called 'vulnerable adults'). An adult in a vulnerable situation is defined as person aged 18 or over, who is or may need community care services by reason of mental health or other disability, age or illness or other personal characteristics or circumstances; and who is or may be unable to take care of him or herself, or unable to protect him or herself against significant harm or exploitation.

Examples of relevant activities undertaken or facilitated by the University include, but are not limited to:

- Organised school/University visits or campus tours
- Events organised by third parties whereby children and/or vulnerable adults may be using our facilities, including sporting facilities or halls of residence.
- Children or vulnerable adults studying at the university, carrying out work experience at the University or employed by the university.

4. What is UCB doing through its safeguarding work?

- a) UCB is complying with our legal obligations and developing our arrangements to reflect good practice in further education, higher education and other relevant sectors.

This Policy is informed by a collection of legislation and statutory guidance, including, Keeping Children Safe in Education (2024), Working together to safeguard children (2023) Children Act 1989 and 2004, Care Act (2014), Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act (2006), Human Rights Act (1998), Equality Act (2010), Data Protection Act (2018) and the General Data Protection Regulations 2018.

University College Birmingham has due regard for the key statutory guidance Keeping Children Safe in Education (2024) and as a university we promote the crucial principles:

- Protecting children from maltreatment.
- Preventing impairment of children's health or development.
- Ensuring that children are growing up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care.
- Taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes.

Our approach to safeguarding vulnerable adults draws broadly on the Care Act (2014) as we seek to:

Ensure that the rights of vulnerable adults are protected to enable them to live in safety, free from abuse, exploitation and neglect.

Ensure that the wellbeing of the adult at risk is promoted. In order to do this, we will consider their views, feelings and beliefs when determining if/what action is needed, whilst also recognising that they can have complex interpersonal relationships and personal circumstances and may not fully appreciate potential risks to their safety or well-being. Therefore, we may not always be able to fully defer to their wishes when seeking the best way forward.

b) Ensuring that our staff are subject to appropriate checks and are appropriately trained.

University managers:

Ensure that all members of the safeguarding team are appropriately trained in safeguarding and have refresher training at least annually.

Ensure that all staff and other adults working within the University receive appropriate safeguarding training.

Ensure that staff are aware of the signs of abuse, exploitation and neglect so that they can identify those who may need extra help, are suffering, or are likely to suffer, significant harm. This is achieved by providing all staff with information and training on the main categories of abuse: Physical, Emotional, Sexual and Neglect as well as training around contextual safeguarding issues such as criminal or sexual exploitation.

Encourage all staff to maintain an attitude of 'it could happen here' where safeguarding is concerned.

Ensure that staff are aware that behaviour linked to the likes of drug taking, alcohol misuse, unexplainable and or/persistent absences from education 'and sexting put children and vulnerable people in danger. Staff are aware of their responsibility to take appropriate action, work with other services as needed and use the University's codes of conduct and policies.

Provide training and support to members of the governing body and trustees at the point of induction to ensure that they understand their important strategic role, as well as their legislative responsibilities, and those set out by the local multi-agency safeguarding arrangements. Managers also ensure that this is regularly updated. This enables governors to fulfil their role within safeguarding at the University and to monitor and challenge the actions of leaders and managers.

Ensure staff understand the risks posed by and to adults or students who use technology, including the internet, to bully, groom, radicalise, exploit or abuse children or vulnerable people.

Ensure all staff members are aware of the University systems which support safeguarding and explain these as part of their induction.

The Governing Body:

Ensure that all adults who have access to students have been checked through the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS), as to their suitability and that serious concerns are reported to the DBS.

c) Ensuring risk assessments are undertaken by the organisers of any event, specifically if intended for children or adults at risk.

Any event which brings children or adults at risk onto University premises or into contact with staff, students, contractors, or volunteers in a situation where they are not a registered student at the University. It is expected that for visits to the University by outside schools where members of staff from that school are in attendance, the school will complete its own risk assessment and take its own safeguarding steps in accordance with local education authority guidelines.

d) Identifying, reporting, and escalating concerns relating to the safeguarding of children or adults at risk.University managers:

Implement effective systems to enable rapid reporting and response to concerns, and to maintain confidential records of all allegations, incidents and the actions taken.

Ensure all University staff can identify children and vulnerable people who may benefit from early help and know their role in providing early help through appropriate training. This includes identifying emerging problems, liaising with the DSL, DDSL and wellbeing staff, and sharing information with other professionals to support early identification and assessment.

Alongside the DSL and DDSL university managers should ensure that any child protection and/or safeguarding concerns are shared immediately with the relevant local authority; Children's Advice and Support Service (CASS); Adult Social Care Contact Centre (ASCCC) and/or the police. If a child, young person or adult at risk is in immediate danger or is at risk of harm, a referral will be made to CASS/ASCCC and/or the police immediately by the DSL or DDSL.

University staff:

All members of the University (staff, students, protocol staff, contractors) are required to report a safeguarding incident/disclosure/concern. Staff members must do this via the online reporting system 'MyConcern,' which can be accessed directly on any device, or via the University portal. This alerts the DSL/DDSL immediately.

If an incident or allegation requires an immediate response staff should telephone the DSL or DDSL using the numbers within this policy. If the DSL/DDSL are unavailable, the executive team PA should be contacted. If none of these individuals are available, and the issue is urgent, consideration should be given to contacting the police or children's/Adult's Services. Concerns must ALWAYS be followed up by the member of staff if no reply has been received and staff should never assume that the concern has been dealt with or received.

All staff should be particularly alert to the potential need for early help for a child who;

- is disabled or has certain health conditions and has specific additional needs
- has special educational needs (whether or not they have a statutory Education, Health and Care plan)
- has a mental health need
- is a young carer
- is showing signs of being drawn in to anti-social or criminal behaviour, including gang involvement and association with organised crime groups or county lines
- is frequently missing/goes missing from education, home or care,
- has experienced multiple suspensions, is at risk of being permanently excluded from schools, colleges and in Alternative Provision or a Pupil Referral Unit.
- is at risk of modern slavery, trafficking, sexual and/or criminal exploitation
- is at risk of being radicalised or exploited • has a parent or carer in custody, or is affected by parental offending
- is in a family circumstance presenting challenges for the child, such as drug and alcohol misuse, adult mental health issues and domestic abuse
- is misusing alcohol and other drugs themselves
- is at risk of so-called 'honour'-based abuse such as Female Genital Mutilation or Forced Marriage
- is a privately fostered child.

Students should contact the DSL/DDSL using the published telephone number which is printed on the back of their ID cards. Students can also use the dedicated email address safeguarding@ucb.ac.uk

Protocol staff members, contractors and any visitors to the University should report via the dedicated email address safeguarding@ucb.ac.uk.

e) Promoting our code of conduct for everyone at the University and upholding our Equal Opportunities Policy

We ensure everyone is treated equitably and with respect irrespective of their background, appearance, race, religion or belief; gender identity marital/civil partnership status; sexual orientation; disability; age; parental, pregnancy or maternity status; social or economic group.

The University has a zero-tolerance approach to sexual violence and sexual harassment, it is never acceptable, and it will not be tolerated. The University is committed to creating a safe environment for learners and staff. The University recognises that even if there are no reports it does not mean this behaviour is not happening. Any report of sexual violence or sexual harassment will be taken seriously. Staff will not dismiss or tolerate of sexual violence or sexual harassment, or pass this behaviour off as “banter,” “just having a laugh,” “a part of growing up” or “boys being boys.” Staff at UCB will challenge physical behaviour such as grabbing bottoms, breasts and genitalia, pulling down trousers, flicking bras and lifting up skirts.

Staff and managers promote positive behaviour consistently through the University’s codes of conduct, policies and by example.

University managers ensure that staff use effective de-escalation techniques and that reasonable force, including restraint, is only used in strict accordance with the legislative framework to protect the individual and those around them.

University managers ensure that all staff abide by the University's Code of Professional Conduct, ensuring that staff know how to respond with clear boundaries about what is safe and acceptable.

University managers oversee the safe use of technology and act immediately if they are concerned about bullying, student well-being, or the misuse of technology.

f) Reviewing our practices, policies, procedures and how the University discharges its safeguarding duties.

The Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) provides an annual report to the University's Governing Body setting out how the University has discharged its duties to students and staff.

The DSL provides a termly report to the Executive Management Team.

The DSL leads on reviewing all safeguarding related data, reports, policies and procedures.

The governing body review, at least annually, the policy and procedures for safeguarding children and adults at risk.

5. Who is responsible?

Creating a Safeguarding Culture - Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility.

All members of the university community, including staff paid and unpaid, governors, learners, sub-contracted and franchised staff, volunteers and visitors are responsible and have a collective responsibility for safeguarding and in promoting the welfare of young people and vulnerable people.

All of these groups within our University community will be made aware of the University Safeguarding Policy.

UCB maintain an 'it could happen here' approach, we are committed to create a 'culture of safety' in which all learners and members of our community are protected from abuse and harm in all areas of its service delivery including online.

Responsibility for protection of our learners, including young people and vulnerable people must be shared because people are safeguarded only when all relevant agencies and individuals accept responsibility, work with and co-operate with one another.

The learning environment will be one in which our learners feel safe, secure, listened to, valued and respected, and are actively encouraged and supported through the curriculum offer, support, work experience, placement and training areas to raise and report on any concerns they have about their own safety and welfare. Children and vulnerable people who are abused or at risk of abuse will be supported within UCB.

Disclosures regarding any incidents relating to abuse, exploitation or neglect and allegations against persons in a position of trust made by young people or vulnerable adults must always be taken seriously and reported swiftly in line with the university's procedures, and with due regard to the privacy of the young person or vulnerable person and their family.

The university will support staff by providing an opportunity to talk through their anxieties and concerns with the Designated Safeguarding Lead including where they have been directly involved in a safeguarding or Prevent incident/case and need reassurance, advice and help.

6. Key Safeguarding Roles and Responsibilities, of the Governing Body and Staff

The Role of the Governing Body

The governing body will:

Ensure that the University promotes an environment and culture in which learners feel safe, secure, valued and respected and know that they will be listened to.

Review, at least annually, the policy and procedures for safeguarding children and vulnerable people.

Ensure that there is a designated safeguarding lead, University safeguarding team, and that the DSL and any deputies undertake appropriate training every two years.

Ensure the University has a senior board level lead to take leadership responsibility for the organisation's safeguarding arrangements.

Ensure that managers and staff take appropriate action to see that young people and vulnerable people are kept safe.

Ensure that staff receive safeguarding training and information which is regularly updated.

Ensure that all adults who have access to students have been checked through the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS), as to their suitability and that serious concerns are reported to the DBS.

Ensure effective procedures for reporting and dealing with allegations of abuse against members of staff and in place.

Ensure safeguarding is regularly discussed and outcomes recorded at Governor meetings. Nominate a Governor to take lead responsibility for safeguarding issues.

Ensure appropriate safeguarding responses for children who go missing from University.

Ensure that they complete safeguarding and child protection training, which is regularly updated, to equip them with the knowledge to provide strategic challenge to test and assure themselves that the safeguarding policies and procedures in place within the University are effective and support the delivery of a robust whole University approach to safeguarding.

Regularly review the effectiveness of university filters and monitoring systems and ensure that the leadership team and relevant staff are, aware of and understand the systems in place, manage them effectively and know how to escalate concerns when identified.

Designated Safeguarding Lead

The designated safeguarding lead will:

Lead on all safeguarding issues, providing advice, support and training as required to all staff and students.

Ensure there is a Deputy Designated Safeguarding Lead (DDSL), with clearly defined responsibilities who will provide support to the DSL.

Ensure all members of staff know the names of safeguarding staff.

Ensure all members of staff understand their responsibilities in referring any concerns to the safeguarding team, and how to do so.

Ensure all staff receive training to the required level which is updated as required (records of safeguarding training to be kept centrally by Human Resources).

Regularly check the Single Central Record at least once per term.

Ensure all relevant safeguarding procedures and policies are kept up to date in line with legislation and local agency recommendations to ensure they remain fit for purpose and reflect changing statutory requirements and/or changing best practice.

Develop effective links with relevant agencies and cooperate as required with requests. Attend safeguarding meetings and case conferences.

Keep accurate written records of reported safeguarding issues.

Ensure all records are kept securely.

Provide a termly report on safeguarding to Executive Management Team and Governing Body
Take lead responsibility for understanding the filtering and monitoring systems and processes in place.

Human Resources

The head of HR is responsible for:

Ensuring the University operates 'safer recruitment' procedures and that appropriate checks are undertaken in respect of all new staff and volunteers.

Maintaining the single central record for all staff in accordance with government guidelines.

Regularly reviewing and updating the University's recruitment procedures to ensure that they consider current legislation and best practice in safer recruitment.

Maintain records of training provided for staff.

Deans, deputy deans and heads of department

Deans, deputy deans and heads of department will:

Read and be familiar with the safeguarding policy and associated procedures.
Undertake training as directed by the DSL.

Be vigilant and professionally curious about the safety and welfare of students.
Promptly report any concerns or disclosures to the DSL.

Comply with professional standards, University codes of conduct, policies and procedures.
Ensure that relevant staff in their teams undertake the required safeguarding training.

Provide students with appropriate information and training in safeguarding at induction and as part of their wider curriculum and studies.

Understand the expectations, applicable roles and responsibilities in relation to filtering and monitoring.

Staff

All staff are responsible for:

Reading and being familiar with the safeguarding policy and associated procedures.

Undertaking training as directed by the DSL and their manager.

Being vigilant and professionally curious about the safety and welfare of students.

Promptly reporting any concerns or disclosures to the DSL.

Complying with professional standards, University codes of conduct, policies and procedures.

Understand the expectations, applicable roles, and responsibilities in relation to filtering and monitoring.

7. UCB Safeguarding Procedures

Confidentiality, communication, record keeping and information sharing

Keeping Children Safe in Education makes it clear that fears about sharing information cannot be allowed to stand in the way of the need to promote the welfare and protect the safety of children: “No single professional can have a full picture of a child’s needs – everyone who comes into contact with them has a role to play in identifying concerns, sharing information and taking prompt action”. This includes allowing practitioners to share information without consent.

Information sharing is vital in identifying and tackling all forms of abuse. Whilst the Data Protection Act 2018 and the General Data Protection Regulations 2018 place duties on organisations and individuals to process personal information fairly and lawfully and to keep the information they hold safe and secure; this is not a barrier to sharing information where the failure to do so would result in a child being placed at risk of harm. Fears about sharing information cannot be allowed to stand in the way of the need to promote the welfare and protect the safety of children.

The DSL will keep all safeguarding records confidential, allowing disclosure only to those who need the information in order to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and vulnerable people. A record will be made of who has viewed a student’s record, when and for what reason.

The DSL will cooperate with police and children’s social care to ensure that all relevant information is shared for the purposes of child protection investigations under section 47 of the Children Act 1989 in accordance with the requirements of Working Together to Safeguard Children (2023), the Prevent Duty Guidance for England and Wales (2023) and Channel Duty Guidance: Protecting people susceptible to radicalisation (2023).

However, following a number of cases where senior leaders in education institutions had failed to act upon concerns raised by staff, Keeping Children Safe in Education emphasises that any member of staff can contact children’s social care if they are concerned about a young person.

The UCB Data Protection policy provides an explanation of the measures taken to ensure security of data. However, concerns about the care and protection of a young or vulnerable person over-ride the requirements of the Data Protection policy. Where a genuine concern exists that there is a risk to the safety of a student under the age of 18, or vulnerable person then it will be appropriate to share relevant information with an appropriate agency.

Where data on applicants to UCB programmes needs to be shared by the Admissions Office, it will be on a strictly confidential and need to know basis. The Admissions Office will make it clear to applicants that this information will be shared on a very restricted basis within UCB.

Where data on applicants for UCB accommodation needs to be shared by the Student Services Unit, it will be on a strictly confidential and need to know basis. The Student Services Unit will make it clear to applicants that this information will be shared on a very restricted basis within UCB.

Where new information becomes known about an enrolled student, which was not available at the point of enrolment, it should be reported to the DSL, who may conduct a Safeguarding Risk Assessment. If such an assessment confirms that the student may pose a risk to the safety of others, the relevant Fitness to Attend procedure in the General Student Regulations will be followed.

Responding to a disclosure or incident

Children and adults at risk are not always ready or able to talk about their experiences of abuse, neglect, or exploitation and/or may not always recognise these experiences as such.

Upon being the witness of an act of suspected abuse, neglect, exploitation or being the person to whom such an act is disclosed/reported, or when reporting concerns of radicalisation:

Always:

Report as soon as you have a concern.

Record information verbatim using the actual words of the child/person and noting any questions they raise.

Note dates, times, who was present, positions in the room, anything factual about the child/person's appearance.

Pass these notes to the DSL, or person responsible for safeguarding at a placement organisation, as appropriate.

If possible and appropriate, use a silent witness.

Never:

Offer promises of complete confidentiality - you MUST report abuse, neglect, exploitation, or concerns of radicalisation if it has been disclosed to you.

Ask leading questions.

Ask the child/person to write down their account.

Investigate with, or without, others.

Take photographs of marks or injuries

Attempt any medical judgement.

Arrange a medical examination.

Tape/video record an interview.

Ask a child/person to remove any clothing. Staff should always be aware of their own vulnerability at this point and should take steps to minimise risk to themselves whilst supporting the child/person.

Reporting an instance of abuse, neglect, exploitation, or radicalisation

Any suspicion, allegation or incident of abuse, neglect, exploitation or radicalisation must be reported to the safeguarding team as soon as possible or, if at a placement organisation, reported to the person responsible at the placement together with reporting the matter as soon as possible to the UCB safeguarding team.

If the DSL/DDSL or other staff named, cannot be contacted within 2 hours of the initial concern arising, the person who has information about suspected abuse must report the matter to the police and/or appropriate local Multi-Agency Safeguarding Hub (MASH), Social Services Department, Duty Social Worker and/or appropriate Adult Social Care Worker immediately, but normally after consultation with a line manager. The DSL should be notified as soon as possible thereafter of the action taken.

The DSL will judge whether the matter should be reported to the police and/or appropriate children's and/or adults services department. The presumption is that the matter will be reported, unless there is good reason not to. If not reported, the reasons for this will be recorded and lodged in the safeguarding file.

If the DSL judges that the matter should be reported, they will telephone and report the matter to the police and/or appropriate children's services and/or the appropriate adult services department. A written record of the date and time of the report will be made, and the report must include the name and position of the person to whom the matter is reported. The telephone report must be confirmed in writing to children's or adults' services within 24 hours.

The DSL will discuss with the police or Social Services Department what action will be taken to inform the parents/guardians of the child or vulnerable person: a note of that conversation should be made.

Whilst it is the DSL's responsibility to decide if the matter should be reported by UCB, the person reporting the allegation may, if they are not satisfied with the speed or decision of the DSL, themselves make a report to the appropriate authorities, whilst at the same time informing the DSL.

Responding to an allegation or disclosure relating to a placement provider

If the matter relates to an act observed by a student or Employability Tutor (Placements) in a placement or is the result of a child or adult in the placement disclosing an allegation of abuse, the student or Employability Tutor (Placements) must immediately comply with the Safeguarding Policy (or similar relevant document) of the placement organisation. Following notification of the matter to the appropriate person at the placement, students should report the matter immediately to their Employability Tutor (Placements).

Where a placement does not have a safeguarding policy or designated safeguarding person, students should report the matter immediately to their Employability Tutor (Placements). If it is a member of UCB staff who has observed an act, or was party to a disclosure, they should then contact the UCB DSL. The UCB DSL will decide if any further action is required. If the allegation relates to a serious matter the UCB DSL will inform the relevant authorities immediately, regardless of any action taken by the placement.

The Employability Tutor (Placements) or HIRED office will contact the UCB DSL and together they will decide if the student should remain at placement or be removed, taking advice on the placement setting from those with responsibility for co-ordination of placements, if necessary. If the student, or a child or vulnerable person in their care, is likely to be in any danger the presumption is that the student will be removed immediately.

The UCB DSL will take into consideration all the available information and will decide on the relevant course of action. This may include referral to the appropriate authorities.

The UCB DSL will inform the Head of Department responsible for the student's programme. They should also confirm the placement database carries a note that a matter of concern is currently pending at the placement, to ensure that no further students are placed there until the matter has been resolved. No details of the student or nature of the incident may be recorded on this database. Consideration should be given to withdrawal of all other UCB students at the placement, where appropriate.

Written records

The UCB DSL should retain a copy of:

- the report;
- any notes, memoranda or correspondence dealing with the matter; any other relevant material.
- copies of reports, notes etc. should be kept always locked in a secure place.

Allegations against staff and adults in a position of trust

For the purposes of this policy, 'members of staff' shall be defined as all of those employed by UCB on a part-time or full-time basis in any role, contractors on official business in the University, and official visitors to the University.

Any allegation against staff should be reported directly to the Vice-Chancellor and Principal. On being notified of any safeguarding matter involving a member of staff, the Vice-Chancellor and Principal will:

Notify the DSL

Take such steps as considered necessary to ensure the safety of the child or adult at risk in question and any other child or adult who might be at risk.

Report the matter to the police or appropriate local Social Services department. If the matter relates to a child, it is likely that any such incident will need to be reported to Birmingham Children's Trust, Children's Advice and Support Service (CASS) on 0121 303 1888 during office hours or otherwise contact the Emergency Duty Team on 0121 675 4806. The Local Authority Designated Officer (Position of Trust Team) on 0121 675 1669 can also assist if necessary. If the matter relates to an adult at risk it is likely that any such incident will need to be reported to the Adult Social Care Contact Centre on 0121 303 1234 during office hours or otherwise contact the out of hours' team on 0121 464 9001.

Ensure that a written report is made by the person who originally raised the concern.

If a complaint has been made against the Vice-Chancellor and Principal, the University Secretary and Registrar should be notified and follow the normal procedure (except the initial notification).

The DSL will decide if it is appropriate to instigate disciplinary proceedings in light of the full circumstances of the incident, including the involvement or the likely involvement of the police or appropriate local Social Services department. If it is deemed appropriate to commence these proceedings, the University's standard disciplinary procedures will be used, which may lead eventually (should the conclusion of the procedures be a disciplinary sanction) to a report to the Disclosure and Barring Service.

University College Birmingham will ensure that all learning from all allegations against staff investigations will be incorporated by the University, not just from those that are concluded and substantiated.

Reporting low level concerns regarding staff and adults in a position of trust

The term 'low-level' concern does not mean that it is insignificant. A low-level concern is any concern (no matter how small, and even if no more than causing a sense of unease or a 'nagging doubt') that an adult working in or on behalf of the University may have acted in a way that:

- is inconsistent with the staff code of conduct, including inappropriate conduct outside of work and
- does not meet the harm threshold or is otherwise not serious enough to consider a referral to the LADO.

Low-level concerns may arise in several ways and from a number of sources. For example: suspicion; complaint; or disclosure made by a child, parent or other adult within or outside of the organisation; or as a result of vetting checks undertaken. It is crucial that all low-level concerns are shared responsibly.

Where low level concerns exist these should be confidentially shared directly with the Designated Safeguarding Lead, who will duly inform the Vice-Chancellor and Principal who will make the final decision on how to respond in consultation with the DSL.

Filtering and monitoring

UCB understand that it has a duty to provide a safe environment to learn and work, including when online. Therefore, we recognise that filtering and monitoring are both important parts of safeguarding learners and staff from potentially harmful and inappropriate online material. The use of technology has become a significant component of many safeguarding issues such as Child sexual exploitation, radicalisation, bullying, grooming etc. and technology can provide a platform that facilitates harm.

An effective approach to online safety enables UCB to protect and educate learners and staff in their use of technology and establishes mechanisms to identify, intervene in and escalate any incident where appropriate. The scope of issues classified within online safety is considerable, but can be categorised into three areas of risk:

- Content: being exposed to illegal, inappropriate, or harmful content, for example: pornography, fake news, racism, misogyny, self-harm, suicide, anti-Semitism, radicalisation and extremism.
- Contact: being subjected to harmful online interaction with other users; for example: child on child pressure, commercial advertising and adults posing as children or young adults with the intention to groom or exploit them for sexual, criminal, financial or other purposes.
- Conduct: personal online behaviour that increases the likelihood of, or causes, harm; for example, making, sending and receiving explicit images (e.g., consensual and non-consensual sharing of nudes and semi-nudes and/or pornography, sharing other explicit images and online bullying; and
- Commerce: risks such as online gambling, inappropriate advertising, phishing and or financial scams.

UCB recognise that many learners will have unlimited and unrestricted access to the internet via their mobile phone networks which might leave them vulnerable to online risk or to inappropriate use of technology. To minimise inappropriate use, we educate young people in online risks and harms through our tutorial programme, enabling educated decisions to be made in accessing content. UCB manage risk by restricting access to internet sites which are inappropriate or are associated with extremist content, learners and staff are protected from inappropriate content by our filtering and monitoring systems which are regularly reviewed for their effectiveness.

All staff are expected to make themselves aware and have a basic understanding of the approach the college has to filtering and monitoring.

All staff are expected to remain vigilant to the potential risk of online harms, if staff become aware of the accessibility of a website site that presents a risk of harm, they must inform ITSU providing details of the website and harmful content.

Filtering should not limit or hinder educational activities and in the event of a website being blocked, staff should raise an IT Ticket with details of the website and reasons why this is required to be unblocked. This will be reviewed in line with Filtering and Monitoring requirements and in liaison with the DSL a decision confirmed as to the site being unblocked or remaining blocked with reasons provided.

Where concerns are raised regarding content that learners are attempting to access, or inappropriate internet searches action is taken on an individual basis with learners to educate them in the associated risks and/or action taken in line with UCB Safeguarding and/or disciplinary processes if appropriate.

Youth Produced Sexual Imagery (YPSI)

Sharing of nudes or semi-nudes (previously known as sexting) is defined as the production and/or sharing of sexual photos and videos of and by young people who are under the age of 18. It includes nude or nearly nude images and/or sexual acts. It is also referred to as 'youth produced sexual imagery'.

'Sharing of nudes or semi-nudes' does not include the sharing of sexual photos and videos of under-18-year-olds with or by adults. This is a form of child sexual abuse and must be referred to the police.

Staff will never view, download or share the imagery, or ask a child to share or download it – this is illegal. If staff have viewed the imagery by accident (e.g. if a young person has shown it before being asked not to), this must be reported to the Safeguarding Team.

Parents should be informed at an early stage and involved in the process unless there is good reason to believe that involving parents would put the young person at risk of harm.

At any point in the process if there is a concern a young person has been harmed or is at risk of harm a referral should be made, by the Safeguarding Team, to children's social care and/or the police immediately. In some cases, the incident can be handled internally without Police involvement.

Disclosure and Barring Service checks for students

Purpose

UCB will adhere to the processes and systems relating to the completion of the enhanced disclosure as set out by the DBS.

A number of UCB programmes require students to come into contact with children and/or adults at risk. These groups are potentially vulnerable to exploitation and all places on courses that require students to work with children and/or adults at risk are therefore provided on condition that enhanced DBS1 checks are conducted on applicants or students and on condition that those checks disclose no convictions or other information that indicate to UCB that the subject of the check is unsuitable to work with children and/or at-risk adults.

Other courses, for example FdSc/BSc Sports Therapy, require students to undergo placement experience, which frequently includes working with children and/or at-risk adults, but placements with such groups are not mandatory. Applicants or students will be required to undergo enhanced DBS checks to enable UCB to determine whether they are suitable to work with children and/or at-risk adults and if they are not suitable, to determine what alternative placement, if any, may be appropriate.

On some programmes, the DBS enhanced disclosure is part of Fitness to Practise requirements for students and will be used as part of the assessment of eligibility for a place on the course, or for the purposes of assessing progression on the course or for an assessment as to a student's fitness to practise in the particular profession.

For some programmes a student MUST have completed a DBS before they can enrol onto the course. please see Appendix b full list of course programmes this relates to.

Where a disclosure request results in relevant convictions and relevant non-conviction information coming to light which raises questions about the suitability of placing a student in a setting with children and/or at-risk adults, action needs to be taken appropriate to the case. This procedure lays out the process for that action.

Programmes requiring DBS checks

Those programmes for which students are required to complete enhanced DBS checks will be approved by, and recorded in the minutes of, the Academic Board's Academic Regulations Sub-Committee. Lists of such courses are available from the University Registry. Students on relevant UCB FE and HE programmes will not be required to undergo an enhanced DBS check¹ every year but will be required to sign a declaration annually (Appendix A) in its place.

UCB students progressing from an FE programme to an HE programme will be required to undergo a new enhanced DBS check, unless they are registered with the DBS Update Service. Entrants from other institutions will be required to undergo a new enhanced DBS check unless they are registered with the DBS Update Service and hold the appropriate level of check.

¹ An enhanced DBS check is required where a person regularly cares for, trains, supervises or is in sole charge of children or adult at risk.

Please note: this does not apply to Physiotherapy, psychology and Nursing students - for these courses a student MUST complete a new DBS, an Update Service registration will not be accepted.

FE students progressing from level two to level three whilst remaining on the same course i.e. Health and Social Care will not need to apply for a new DBS disclosure.

Student Awareness of the Need for the Enhanced Disclosure

Students on programmes which require the completion of the enhanced DBS check will be informed during the recruitment process of this requirement.

Where a student has applied for a course that requires DBS clearance and declared a disclosure on the admissions application form the Admissions Team will refer the student to the Hired Team. The Hired Team will instigate the DBS application process and arrange for the student to go through a referral meeting, ideally prior to the commencement of the course, to ensure they meet the admissions criteria for the course.

It is important to note that notwithstanding when the DBS checks have been submitted all offers of a place on programmes requiring enhanced disclosures will be made conditional on the student undergoing an enhanced DBS check which reveals no information from which UCB could conclude that the individual is unsuitable to work with children and/or vulnerable people.

This means that if the results of the DBS check lead to such a conclusion, the student will not be permitted to take up the place on the course, or where the check is conducted and/or returned after the beginning of the academic year has begun, will not be permitted to continue on the course. In such circumstances the Executive Dean or his/her nominee will inform the student of the decision.

Ideally where working with children and/or adult at risk is a requirement of the programme, DBS checks are submitted prior to a student accepting an offer of a place. Students will not however be permitted to take up a placement in which they have full responsibility for children or vulnerable people until UCB has received confirmation of their DBS clearance from the DBS. Since many DBS checks take some time to complete, a student may be permitted to undertake a modified form of placement in which they are supervised at all times, but only with the approval of the employer who will have been made aware of the lack of return of a DBS certificate. Where a student has declared a disclosure on their Admissions application form, we will start the DBS application process as soon as possible.

At induction students will be reminded of the requirement for DBS disclosures and informed of UCB's commitment to data protection.

Completion of the Enhanced Disclosure Process

Students on programmes requiring the completion of an enhanced DBS check will be sent a link within an email from eSafeguarding to complete an online application. UCB will pay the appropriate administration fee, currently £46.40 (2024). Staff will explain the on the application process which will validate the entries being made. At all times, the security of the student data will be GDPR compliant.

In exceptional circumstances where a student is unable to provide the identification to meet the online DBS application process students may be asked to use the fingerprinting process to obtain their DBS clearance. Students will be required to complete a hard copy DBS application form. Identification checks (with what identification is available to the student) will be completed by the Hired Team and the application form will then be sent to UCB's Human Resources department for counter signatory. The form will declare that the student is unable to provide sufficient identification. The DBS will then write to the student and request that they submit two passport photographs and attend an appointment at a local police station to provide fingerprints. This route will only be used when all other avenues of obtaining identification have been exhausted.

Once the application has been submitted by the student, appropriate identity evidence will be seen by authorised administrators at UCB. The verification of this evidence will be recorded on the online application form and the application will be sent electronically to eSafeguarding. eSafeguarding will check the application then will submit the DBS application electronically.

The DBS responds to the applications by sending a certificate to the student. UCB will receive a separate email notification from eSafeguarding (where the eSafeguarding system has been used) to confirm when a DBS has been completed. Where the student has used the fingerprinting process to apply for their DBS, they will be required to get their DBS seen by the Hired Team.

An 'Empty' certificate

A notification is sent to UCB advising that the certificate has been issued and is ready for viewing in the database. Certificates that do not contain information (e.g. convictions) are displayed as 'Certificate contains no information' and list the disclosure certificate number and issue date. Hired team administrators can see that this student is clear for placement. No further action is taken.

A Certificate with a comment (positive DBS)

Certificates that contain information are issued and the notification to UCB advises 'Please wait to view the applicant certificate'. The Hired Team will refer these students to the Executive Dean/Deputy Dean/Head of Department. A panel, including the relevant Employability tutor, will then meet the student, review the DBS and decide on the outcome.

If the certificate reveals information of a very serious nature which clearly shows that the applicant/student may cause a risk to children or adults at risk, the matter will be referred immediately to the Pro-Vice Chancellor (Curriculum, Teaching and Learning) for consideration under the relevant University's Fitness to Practise policy.

In all other cases, the following procedure will apply:

The Executive Dean/Deputy Dean or Head of Department will write (email) to the student requesting that they attend an interview regarding the information disclosed. The email will remind students that they may bring someone with them to support them at the meeting, for instance, a parent or friend.

At the meeting, the Executive/Deputy Dean or Head of Department will refer to the certificate provided by the DBS to the student and will discuss with them the information disclosed.

A record of the meeting will be made by the Executive/Deputy Dean or Head of Department, a copy of which will be provided to the student who will be asked to sign a statement that they were provided with a copy.

Factors which the Executive/Deputy Dean or Head of Department may take into account in reaching a conclusion from the meeting are, for example:

- the relevance of the conviction or other information revealed to the placement activity;
- the seriousness of the conviction or other matter revealed;
- the length of time since the offence or other matter occurred;
- whether there is a pattern of offending behaviour or other relevant matters;
- the circumstances surrounding the offending behaviour or other matters reported and the explanation offered by the student.
- the requirements of the placement provider - this is very important as providers may have strict requirements with regard to eligibility of placement students and may ultimately determine the availability of placements.

On the basis of the information on the certificate and the outcome of the interview, the Executive/Deputy Dean or Head of Department will decide if the student may be:

- allowed to undertake a placement without further investigation or action because in the opinion of the Executive/Deputy Dean or Head of Department the information does not indicate that the student is unsuitable to work with children and/or vulnerable people;
- offered a placement subject to placement providers being informed of the nature of the disclosure and subject to the placement provider's willingness to provide the placement to the student in view of the DBS certificate;
- refused a placement because the Executive/Deputy Dean or Head of Department concludes that the student is unsuitable to work with children and/or vulnerable people. In cases where placements with children and/or vulnerable people are a mandatory requirement of the course, the student will not be permitted to remain on the course because he/she will not have fulfilled the condition of admission as set out above i.e. that DBS checks are conducted and certificates reveal no information from which UCB could conclude that he/she is unsuitable to work with children and/or vulnerable people.

The Executive/Deputy Dean or Head of Department will inform the placement providers. The student will be required to give their consent to this (see below, if the student does not consent), and it shall be the Employability Tutor's responsibility to inform the senior manager at the placement that the student holds a positive DBS. The student will then be required to provide to the employer the full circumstances and nature of the information in the DBS certificate. The student will not commence a period of work placement until the placement provider has contacted the Employability Tutor to confirm that they are happy to allow the student to be placed at their site. The Employability Tutor will ensure, that the precise nature of the information on the certificate has been revealed by the student. The student must inform the Employability Tutor if the provider is not happy to host their placement.

If a student does not give their consent to the placement provider being informed, it may be impossible for them to satisfy assessment or other requirements, making them ineligible for the award they had intended to achieve. In such cases, they may be required to withdraw from the programme.

A record will be made on the database that the student has been DBS checked by recording the number of their DBS certificate. Notes of any meetings will be held in an UCB approved e-storage facility. Access to this information will be restricted - see section on Security.

If, in light of information coming to notice through an enhanced DBS check, the Executive/Deputy Dean or Head of Department needs advice on the suitability of a particular student for a programme, they will discuss the disclosed information with Pro-Vice Chancellor (Curriculum, Teaching and Learning). Further reference to an external specialist advisor is also possible where necessary, and insofar as is reasonably possible, the identity of the student will not be disclosed to the external advisor.

For programmes subject to Professional Statutory and Regulatory Body approval and/or accreditation such as Nursing and Midwifery Council, Health and Care Professions Council and British Psychological Society it will be necessary to hold a panel DBS referral meeting if there is a positive DBS. This will be chaired by Pro-Vice- Chancellor (Curriculum, Teaching and Learning)/Executive Dean and include Programme Manager for Nursing and nominated practice partner. The hired admin team will refer the student to the Executive Dean. The result of the meeting may impact the offer of a place on the course.

Security of personal data

At all times, the security of the personal data involved in this procedure will be ensured.

Information reported in the certificate will not be passed to any other person except a) to persons at the placement provider who are authorised to receive it in the course of their duties (where agreed with the student or where in the absence of the student's consent, UCB believes that failure to pass on the information may put children or vulnerable people at risk), b) to an authorised relevant Senior Manager of UCB (and only to members of staff who can assist in the decision making process with regard to placements or where the information disclosed suggests that there may be a risk to children or vulnerable people within UCB). Copies of DBS certificates must not be made.

DBS certificates will only be processed by UCB for the purposes set out in this policy.

Replacement DBS check

Although UCB will pay for all students' initial DBS check, if mislaid, the student must fund any subsequent replacements directly.

8. Disclosure and Barring Service checks for staff

Recruitment

UCB has in place safer recruitment policies and procedures which will ensure that every care is taken to protect children and vulnerable people and that the university meets its statutory duties. The recruitment procedures will include the following:

- Satisfactory references (all offers)
- Satisfactory Enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) Checks (eligible roles only)
- Satisfactory checks of the Children's and/or Adults Barred Lists (eligible roles only)
- Satisfactory UK Residency/Right to work in UK (all offers)

Disclosure and Barring Service Reporting and Referral

UCB will adhere to the policies, processes and systems as set out by the DBS.

The DBS are responsible for the decision making and maintenance of the two barred lists covering children and vulnerable people.

DBS Reporting and Referral

UCB has a duty to refer to the DBS any information about individuals who may pose a risk.

Current staff

UCB's duty to refer will apply when the following two conditions have been met:

- Permission is withdrawn by UCB for an individual to engage in regulated activity, or would have done so had the individual not resigned, retired, been made redundant or been transferred to a position which is not regulated activity;

because

- UCB think the individual has engaged in relevant conduct; satisfied the Harm Test; or received a caution or conviction for a relevant (automatic barring) offence.²

Students

UCB is designated by DBS as a 'Personnel Supplier' and has a duty to make a referral to the DBS in respect of a student who has been supplied to a regulated activity provider, where both of the following conditions are met.

UCB ceases to supply a student to a regulated activity provider to engage in regulated activity; or determines that the student should cease to follow a course at UCB; or would have done if the student had not otherwise ceased to engage in regulated activity or ceased to follow the course.

and

The reason is that UCB thinks that the student has engaged in relevant conduct; or the harm test is satisfied; or the student has received a caution or conviction for a relevant (automatic barring) offence.

Referral will be made to the DBS when UCB has gathered sufficient evidence as part of their investigations, through the Disciplinary Procedure, to support their reasons for withdrawing permission to engage in regulated activity.

² Relevant Conduct, Harm Test and Relevant Offence are explained in the DBS Guidance Notes for Barring Decision Making Process.

Any referrals to the DBS will be made using the Referral Form as set out in the DBS Referral Guidance document (available at <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/dbs-referrals-form-and-guidance>). In all cases the Referral Form would be authorised and submitted by the Head of HR department.

9. Placements and this Policy

Safety, Risk Assessment and Safeguarding at Placements

The safety of students on placement is a key concern. All placements will be assessed for their suitability and continuing safety by the relevant Employability Tutor (Placements) on an annual basis (or before re-use if more than one year passes between placements).

Students on placement within nursing, physiotherapy and allied health professions will be subject of audit and compliance in line with the Nursing & Midwifery Council (NMC) and Health Care Professions Council (HCPC). The Executive Dean (School of Health, Sport and Food) will ensure that students are fully conversant with these regulations prior to going on placement.

The assessment of the suitability of a work placement is based on a risk rating for new employers using the guidance below. ALL employers are required to sign and return the Health and Safety commitment form prior to placement with the following action taken based on the risk rating:

- High risk – health and safety site visit to be completed prior to placement e.g., production kitchens, bakeries, factories.
- Medium risk - health and safety site visit to be completed, where possible, prior to placement. Phone call to discuss health and safety if visit not possible.
- Low risk - health and safety phone call to discuss health and safety and ensure commitment understanding prior to placement.

Whilst many placements include a residential element, no student under the age of eighteen will be placed in such a setting, unless under the supervision of a member of the UCB staff, or unless all relevant checks have been carried out on the placement organisation and its staff.

All students under the age of eighteen undertaking placements will be visited where possible or have phone and/or video call contact where it is not. This will check not only on the educational experience being gained by the student, but also their safety.

Where there is a concern over a student's safety on placement, they will immediately be removed and will return to UCB. A note will be placed on the placement organisation's file on the placement database to ensure that other students are not sent on placement there until an investigation has taken place and the placement declared safe following a full reassessment by an Employability Tutor (Placements). In some cases, it may be necessary to remove the placement from the database altogether.

Where there is a concern over a student on placement within nursing, physiotherapy and allied health professions; a note will be placed on the placement organisation's file on the placement database to ensure that other students are not sent on placement there until an investigation has taken place and the placement declared safe following a full reassessment by the Executive Dean (School of Health, Sport and Food). In some cases, it may be necessary to remove the placement from the database altogether. Any reassessment will also be in line with the Nursing & Midwifery Council (NMC) and Health Care Professions Council (HCPC).

Student visits and this Policy

All student visit destinations will be assessed for their suitability and continuing safety by the relevant Head of Department or their nominee before their use.

Whilst many visits include a residential element, no student under the age of eighteen will be placed in such a setting, unless under the close supervision of a member of the UCB staff, or unless all relevant checks have been carried out on the organisation and its staff.

All students undertaking visits will be given clear information on the procedures to be used for reporting safety incidents.

Where there is a concern over a student's safety during a visit, an assessment will be made by the accompanying member of staff (or the approved organisation, if relevant). If their continuing safety cannot be confirmed, they will immediately be removed and will return to UCB. The Pro-Vice Chancellor (Curriculum, Teaching and Learning) must be notified whilst a review of the incident is carried out and any necessary action taken by the relevant Executive Dean. If necessary, a report will be made to the Health and Safety Committee with recommendations for future action. No other student will be allowed to visit the location until the Health and Safety Committee believe that it is once again safe.

Examinations and this Policy

All staff involved in the management, administration and conducting of examinations at University College Birmingham are made aware of their safeguarding responsibilities. This includes raising awareness and understanding of their role in safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children whilst they are undertaking their examinations/assessments.

Staff are provided with an invigilation guidebook and an invigilation folder which has emergency contact details for the relevant UCB departments and services. Within the invigilation guidebook the following policies are highlighted:

- Safeguarding Policy (which includes details of how to report a concern)
- General Student Regulations
- Student code of Conduct for Examinations
- Employee code of conduct

University College Birmingham ensures that all staff involved in the management, administration and conducting of examinations 'suitably qualified and experienced adults. This is supported by safer recruitment practice.

10. Professional Development

UCB recognise that safeguarding is everyone's responsibility and therefore understand that robust and appropriate safeguarding training is key to ensuring that all staff understand what safeguarding is and are aware of their significant role within this. It is also vital in ensuring that staff understand their responsibility to take appropriate action, work with other services as needed and use the University's codes of conduct and policies.

Therefore, all permanent contracted staff UCB employees (regardless of role) will undergo safeguarding training as well as specific training on other key safeguarding issues including 'online safety' and 'radicalisation/prevent duty,' at induction. This training will be updated at least every two years. The safeguarding team will provide staff with regular safeguarding and child protection updates, (for example, via email, e-bulletins, staff meetings) as required, and at least annually, to continue to provide them with relevant skills and knowledge to safeguard children effectively.

There is also a designated safeguarding page on the University's Canvas site which contains information, resources and signposting in respect of key safeguarding issues that all staff and students can access. UCB will also ensure that all protocol and agency staff working at UCB unsupervised have an appropriate understanding of safeguarding and their responsibilities.

Contractors, agency and protocol staff who work at UCB on an adhoc basis (i.e., may visit site once to complete work) and are supervised by a member of staff will not be required to undertake this training.

Members of staff with additional safeguarding responsibilities i.e. the Designated Safeguarding Lead and the Deputy Designated Safeguarding Lead, will receive additional safeguarding training relevant to their specific role and attend regular training/webinars/conferences etc. throughout the year to update and refresh their knowledge on key areas to ensure that they are able to carry out their role fully.

The HR Department will maintain a record of staff trained.

11. Indicators of abuse and neglect

Abuse

A form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse, including where they see, hear or experience its effects. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children.

Physical abuse: a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning, or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

Emotional abuse: the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning or preventing the child from participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.

Sexual abuse: involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing, and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children. The sexual abuse of children by other children is a specific safeguarding issue in education and all staff should be aware of it and of their school or college's policy and procedures for dealing with it.

Neglect

The persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy, for example, as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: provide adequate food, clothing, and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate caregivers); or ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

Mental Health and Wellbeing Support

UCB have a Health and Wellbeing Team, who are based in The Link Building, information on the support and services they offer can be found at:

<https://www.ucb.ac.uk/student-support/health-and-wellbeing/mental-health-and-wellbeing-service/>

Students can self-refer for support related to mental health and/or wellbeing using the simple online registration form which can be found at:

<https://portal.ucb.ac.uk/#/student-services>

The Student Engagement Team are also available to offer support and guidance regarding accessing academic assistance, mental health and wellbeing provision, financial aid, and any other issues that may be affecting students whilst they are studying.

<https://www.ucb.ac.uk/student-support/health-and-wellbeing/student-engagement-team/>

UCB have partnered with Health Assured to give all students access to a Student Assistance Programme to provide additional mental health support. This is in addition to our existing Wellbeing support.

What is a Student Assistance Programme (SAP)?

This free and confidential service is designed to help students deal with personal or academic problems that could be affecting their home life, health or general wellbeing.

The SAP service provides a complete support network with unlimited access to a 24/7 confidential counselling helpline that offers expert advice and compassionate guidance, covering a wide range of issues. This includes the option of structured counselling sessions from trained counsellors, over the phone.

To speak to a BACP-accredited counsellor at any time of day or night, students can call 0800 028 3766.

The Health Assured support line is a separate service offered to students at University College Birmingham. Health Assured provides a confidential service and the information discussed with their helpline support workers is not routinely provided to the University unless a student's health, wellbeing or welfare is judged to be at imminent risk. In these circumstances and where the support worker thinks a student needs additional support, they will seek the student's consent to share their name and information about their concerns with the University Health and Wellbeing team service so that they can provide the student with further help. In some circumstances where students are not able to provide consent or refuse consent, Health Assured may still decide to share relevant information with the University where it is necessary to protect them or another person's vital interests. This approach is consistent with the University's Student Emergency Contact Statement which students agree to at registration.

Wisdom Mobile App

Sometimes it can be difficult to balance the pressures of university with the demands of home life. When daily life feels overwhelming, students may need help and support to deal with the practical and emotional challenges they may be facing.

The free Wisdom app offers access to health and wellbeing support at the tap of a finger anywhere and anytime. Support services include.

- Weekly mood tracker
- Support videos and webinars.
- Four-week programmes
- Home life support and advice
- Physical and emotional health
- Mini health checks
- Wellbeing videos and webinars
- Medical information
